Approve Prizes for Decorated Homes

Coleman council, at its Light and Water Company meeting November 28th, agreed to again provide prizes for the best electrically decorated homes during the Christmas season.

Complaints of too much chlorine in the town water supply have been checked and it was disclosed that the proper amount is being fed into the system.

A social evening is to be held for the town employees and arrangements are to be completed by Councilor Ted Kryczka and foreman Rudy Szymanski.

During the Gas Company meeting it was learned that the ditch for the extension of the gas service to areas in East Coleman has been dug. The extension will feed four residences and the pole plant. The Gas Company is awaiting the arrival of the pipe, which is expected around the first of December. Service of a welder has been secured to weld and join the gas line.

Gas foreman Joe Beigun reported that local gas meters are now in the process of being checked. Approval was given for the purchase of 20 new meters.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aboussafy Honored

Les Owen, on behalf of the Coleman Business Men, presented Frank Aboussafy and his wife with a farewell gift at a party sponsored by the Coleman Lions Club in the Catholic hall December 1st.

Lions' District Governor A. A. Nedlow of Fort Macleod, also paid his official visit to the Club and he and his wife were presented with a gift from the Lions Club by President Clint Rasmussen.

Club Secretary Fred MacLeod also presented Mr. Aboussafy with a gift from the Lions Club, after which roses were presented to Mrs. Aboussafy by Mrs. F. MacLeod and to Mrs. Nedlow by Mrs. J. Colwell.

Mayor John Holyk welcomed the many guests, and commended the Lions Club for their gesture in paying honor to Mr. Aboussafy, a former mayor, businessman and esteemed citizen of Coleman.

Sue Murdoch of the Lions Club, gave a resume' of Mr. Aboussafy's active life in the Crows Nest Pass, stating that until his retirement a few years ago, Mr. Aboussafy had been mayor of the town for over 18 years. He was a past president of the Lions Club, a past president of the Chinook Health Unit and besides being active in many other community affairs, travelled to Ottawa to try to get assistance for the Crows Nest Pass where the mines began to close down.

Mr. Aboussafy ably expressed his and his wife's deep appreciation of the gesture. He and his wife were given a standing ovation.

Lion Jack Colwell introduced District Governor of District 37D, A. A. Nedlow of Fort Macleod, who gave an impressive talk on Lionsism.

An evening dancing concluded the successful event.

Water Rate Increase Planned

Coleman water rates will be increased from $2.80 to $3.00 after January 1st as the result of a new by-law that had its third reading November 28th. Council found that this was necessary to cover costs of building a new pump house, increased pumping costs and improvements to the water system.

Mayor John Holyk reported that the Chinook Health Unit requisition has been dropped for Coleman this year from $325 to $1700. This, he said, was due to a population decrease of approximately 400 persons. The Unit, he stated, has a surplus of $50,000. The wages of Dr. Kurt Adler were increased by 10 per cent from $15,000 to $16,500 per year.

Councillor Fred MacLeod, Coleman representative on the Crows Nest Pass Recreation Board, reported that nine applications for the position of recreational director or have been received. Four of the applicants will be interviewed on December 9 and 10.

He stated that new legislation that is to be brought in by the government will provide the area with a total grant of $50,000 every five years. The grant would be based on a per capita grant of $8.00 per head for the first thousand persons in an area and then $3.00 per person thereafter.

Council decided to tear down the camp kitchen in the town park as the result of many young people using the premises for a hang-out despite council and police efforts to restrict the camp shelter for the use of tourists.

Groups of young people have been using the shelter as a meeting place and have been causing damage to the shelter, necessitating continual repair by the town. Although reluctant to have the shelter demolished, council felt it was not worth the trouble the town is being put to.

Town foreman Rudy Szymanski will attend a sewerage and water services operators' school to be held in Edmonton in February. The school is the first of a three-year program being sponsored by the government.

Approval was given by council to hire Ivan Lorrain of Trail, B. C., as an equipment operator for the town of Coleman.

Additional strings of Christmas tree lights will be strung across the street from Highway 3 south to the main street.

Councillor Ted Kryczka of the Sports Association, reported that the arena was now open and functioning well. He announced that the arena would be open Christmas Day and Boxing Day from 3 to 5 p.m. for skating.

Approval was given to provide the usual Christmas gifts for local residents in the Crestview Lodge at Pincher Creek, and for permanent town employees.

Fish And Game Report Dam Work Is Progressing

Coleman Fish and Game Association, at its December meeting reported that good progress is being made on the Association's new dam site project northwest of Coleman.

Reports indicated that several good work bees have been held on the dam site which, when completed will cover about 20 acres.

When completed the dam will be stocked with fish and the area will provide another site similar to Allison Creek Dam where, besides fishing, swimming and camping will be afforded to visitors to the area.

Feasibility of having an area of the Crows Nest Pass designated as a provincial park was discussed and more information on this matter is to be sought. Attempts will also be made to try to have a district ranger stationed in the area since the closest ranger is located at Pincher Creek.

Truck Registration For Winter Work

The Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways, has announced that truck registration for winter work will commence Wednesday, December 6, 1967, and that the necessary forms will be available on or after that date in the Highways Building, Edmonton, and in the offices of the District Engineers at Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary, Red Deer, Edson, Vermilion, Athabasca, St. Paul, Peace River and Grande Prairie. Trucks interested in participating in this program must register early and all registration will cease as of January 15, 1968.

The program this winter is expected to be of limited volume and will be primarily in the more remote areas of the province. The nature of the work places much of the hauling in isolated areas requiring the trucker to have portable living accommodation.

A number of the haul trucks will be across muskeg terrain and out of some of the major river valleys. The operators must, therefore, be competent and have the trucks in good operating condition.

The registration forms must be completed in every detail, in duplicate, and must be completed by the trucker before a Commissioner of Oaths. Commissioners of Oaths are available at the points of registration and it is suggested that the most use be made of these people to expedite the registration. Both copies must be turned in at the point of registration or returned to the Department of Highways in Edmonton.

After checking and tabulating of the forms in Edmonton, one copy will be returned to the trucker which he must retain for presentation to the Engineer on a project to which he is assigned and answers the call for work.

The truck registration system was originally introduced to distribute work among gravel dump truck operators presently in the business and depending wholly on the work for their living. There is no guaranty for all registering that work will be available, however, the principle is to distribute the work as equitably as possible during the winter months. The success of this operation is entirely dependent on prompt acceptance of a call when given and immediate reporting to the work project. If an individual is not prepared to act in this fashion, then he should not register.

Additionally, the trucker receiving a call and who does not advise his intent to proceed to the project within the time specified when registering would obviously be dropped from the listing in favor of other truckers. The success of this system is, therefore, entirely dependent on the full co-operation of all those registering.

Only one truck per owner may be registered. It is not intended that large firms, professional men and others who have substantial business endeavors other than trucking, register under this program.

The gross earning amount will be set initially at $1200 per owner called to the work. However, this figure will be adjusted if required, depending on the volume of work and the success in obtaining trucks promptly when called.

What Are You Putting In Your Oil Burner?

(By A. E. Bridges, Alberta
Fire Commissioner)

Each oil burning stove has a specified grade of fuel. If a lighter or lower grade of fuel is used the stove will not function properly. The result is uneconomic operation and perhaps fouling of the burner which results in a fire.

But still more dangerous is the case of fuel contamination—that is, fuel oil contaminated with gasoline. How could this occur—in most cases human error.

There was a tragic case of such human error recently near Sedgewick. Our investigation is not yet complete, but we are certain that contamination of the stove oil with gasoline caused near fatal burns to a 22-year-old girl and serious burns to her 29-year old brother, who were in the farm home near the oil heater when a flash fire was caused by the oil burner.

The following conditions or a combination of more than one, could have caused the fire:

- 1-The supplier delivered contaminated fuel—containing a percentage of gasoline.
- 2-The home owner's family accidentally mixed some fuel oil and gasoline and poured it into the supply tank of the oil burner.
- 3-An open pail of fuel beside the stove gave off vapors which were ignited by the stove and caused a flash fire in the room.

Approved oil burners properly installed lose all the designed safety protection under fueling conditions described above.

Hospital Payments Set Record

The steadily rising cost of hospital operation in Alberta has pushed subsidy payments by the Alberta Government to an all-time high. The Department of Health estimates totals for the province for 1967 are running at about two million dollars higher than in 1966.

The final estimated payment to Alberta hospitals has gone out in the amount of $4,160,000. An earlier payment, in June, had totaled $1,179,000. A final payment for 1967 will be made early in the new year based on audited costs.

The final estimated payment to the hospitals is being made more than a month earlier than usual to assist hospitals facing operating costs estimated to be 20 per cent higher today than they were one year ago.

The payments are supplementary aid to 125 active treatment hospitals in the province, made in addition to the regular monthly payments which have been running at about $4,500,000 monthly. These hospitals maintain approximately 10,000 beds.

Payments to Auxiliary hospitals for 1967 are expected to total about $7,500,000. There are 26 auxiliary hospitals in Alberta with a total of over 2200 beds.

Snowmobile Safety

With snow once again covering most parts of Canada, it is time for snowmobile fans to prepare for a winter's fun by taking heed of safety rules, warns the National Safety League.

Skimming over hills and trails in the speedy vehicles can provide real enjoyment, but a broken leg or worse, a fatal injury, takes all the enjoyment out of it for longer than just the winter.

Thus, NSL joins with other safety groups across the country in offering this set of safety rules:

- Because of the hazard to traffic, don't operate snowmobiles on roads or highways (some provinces require that if roads are used both the snowmobile and driver must be licensed as in the case of automobiles);
- When travelling in remote areas, go in pairs or groups and carry recommended survival equipment;
- Carry basic spare parts and tools and use gasoline de-icer in the tank;
- Stay out of races and rallies until you have the necessary experience;
- When towing a skier, make sure he is thoroughly experienced and have a person seated backwards on the snowmobile to watch him;
- Stay off ice surfaces—you never know when a river current may have made the ice too thin for the weight of the snowmobile;
- Allow children under 12 to operate a snowmobile only when accompanied by an adult.

Have fun, but keep it safe and don't spoil the enjoyment of this burgeoning winter sport, says the League.

EARLY RECREATION—La-crosse, a fast-moving netted stick game, was played in America before Columbus landed in 1492. Originated by the Iroquois Indians and used as a training requirement for warriors, this strenuous game was adopted in 1860 by the white man. It is now reputed to be North America's oldest organized sport.

Canada Pension Plan Annual Report Tabled

OTTAWA — Of $569,903,163 credited to the Canada Pension Plan during the 1966-67 fiscal year, $500,668,000 was invested in provincial and federal securities, according to the Plan's second Annual Report tabled November 27 in the House of Commons. The Report was presented by the Hon. Allan J. MacEachen, Minister of National Health and Welfare.

Of the invested amount, $578,296,000 was invested in securities purchased from provincial governments or their agencies. The remaining $1,792,000 was put in Government of Canada securities.

The Report shows $567,202,309 of CPP funds came from contributions. On the last day of the year, March 31, $8,078,121 accrued from interest. Administrative costs were listed as $3,777,581.

Provincially invested funds were directed into various areas. For example, all funds made available to British Columbia were taken up by the B. C. Hydro and Power Authority. In the case of Alberta, the total amount was taken up by the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation.

In Manitoba, a large portion of the available funds was taken up by the Water Supply Board, the School Capital Financing Authority and the Development Fund.

In such instances the securities carried provincial guarantee to both principal and interest.

At the end of the fiscal year, it was estimated that 6,266,000 employees, 1,447,000 self-employed, and 336,750 employers were liable to make contributions to the Plan.

A network of 97 CPP service offices was set up during the year by the Department of National Health and Welfare.

This included 37 district offices and 60 local offices, the latter operating on a part time basis in premises of the Unemployment Insurance Commission. Arrangements underway at the end of the fiscal year for further local offices in premises of the Department of Manpower and Immigration have now been completed — making available an additional 29 offices on a part time basis.

Benefits under CPP are in three principal categories:

Retirement pensions, which first became payable at reduced rates in January, 1967, and will become payable at full rates in January, 1970; disability pensions, to become payable in 1970, and survivors' benefits, to become payable in February, 1968.

Survivors' benefits include widows' pensions, disabled widows' pensions, orphans' benefits and lump sum death benefits.

Throughout the year, the Report stated, close liaison was maintained with the Quebec Pension Board, which administers the comparable pension plan in Quebec. This has ensured that the Canada Pension Plan and the Quebec Pension Plan have developed along parallel lines. A three-member Pension Appeals Board has been established to consider appeals from contributors and beneficiaries of both Plans.

Oriental Christmas Fare

Although Christmas is not celebrated in the East — the Chinese New Year being the greatest festival around that time — there are many Oriental delicacies available from the Kitchens of Chun King that can be used to brighten the Christmas table.

The most popular among these, and one of the tastiest, is a stuffing that utilizes the unique flavor and crispness of Chinese water chestnuts. These water chestnuts are available in cans at most grocery outlets throughout Canada.

Holiday Season Turkey Dressing

- 3 cups dry pumpernickel bread crumbs (or sour rye bread)
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped Chun King water chestnuts
- 1 egg (beaten)
- 1 tsp. chopped parsley
- 2 tsp. melted butter
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. pepper
- 1 tsp. tarragon
- 1 tsp. marjoram
- ½ tsp. basil

Mix all ingredients thoroughly — boil giblets in just enough water to cover (salt and pepper to taste). Chop the liver and add it to other ingredients, moisten (do not wet) the stuffing with about a cup of the broth from the giblets and let stand half an hour. Stuff the crop and body cavities lightly, do not pack the stuffing as it will expand.

The Christmas cocktail hour can be brightened with a variety of easy to prepare Oriental dishes, one of the easiest of which is the Chun King egg roll now available in a variety of sizes at the frozen food counter of most supermarkets. All that is required is to heat and serve.

Another delightful change of pace cocktail snack is fried shrimp with dunking sauce.

Fried Shrimp With

Dunking Sauce:

Wash 2 lbs. raw shrimp; remove shells (not tails) and black veins. Drain. Sprinkle with salt. Dip each shrimp into slightly beaten egg, then into finely crushed Chun King Chow Mein Noodles, coating well. Place shrimp, 6 or 8 at a time, into a frying basket. Lower into hot (375° F) oil; fry until golden. Drain on absorbent paper. Dunking sauce: Add enough water to 2 tablespoons dry mustard to make a smooth paste. Blend in half cup Chun King Soy Sauce.

Appetizers for 6.

Other useful cocktail ideas are as follows:

Barbecued Chicken Livers:

Rinse 1 lb. chicken livers; drain on absorbent paper. Let stand 30 minutes in following sauce:

- 2 tablespoons honey
- 2 tablespoons Chun King Soy Sauce
- ½ cup oil
- 1 tablespoon white wine
- 1 clove garlic, crushed

Spoon livers with sauce into greased shallow pan. Bake at 375° F about 25 minutes, turning livers over once. Serve hot, inserting wooden pick into each liver. Or serve as an entree with hot rice and chopped green onions sprinkled over livers.

Romani - Chun King Style:

Follow directions for marinating livers as for Barbecued Chicken Livers. Remove livers from sauce, drain. Wrap half slice of bacon around a halved water chestnut and a bite-size piece of chicken liver; fasten with wooden pick. Place on broiler rack and broil slowly about 5 minutes on each side, turning once. One half lb. sliced bacon, half lb. livers and 1 can Chun King Water Chestnuts will make about 2 doz. appetizers.

Bacon Wrapped Water Chestnuts:

Drain 1 can Chun King Water Chestnuts. Let stand 1 hour in a mixture of ¼ cup French dressing and half teaspoon curry powder, drain. Wrap each chestnut in half slice of bacon. Fasten with wooden pick and broil until bacon is crisp. Appetizers for 4.

CHRISTMAS IN ALBERTA

Clear skies, crisp snows, a favoured land and a friendly people; all the ingredients for seasonal enjoyment are here in the beautiful Big Country. May we take this opportunity to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Balloon Baubles

Here's a bright new idea in decoration! You'll need facial tissues, balloons, liquid starch and decorative materials. Blow up and tie balloons. Then stack sheets of tissue, allowing 12-15 sheets for each fair-sized balloon. Divide sheets into fourths. Mix one cup starch to one third cup of water in a bowl. Place damp palm on the stack of tissues and lift sheets off individually, patting lightly till sheet adheres to surface of balloon. Repeat till balloon is well covered with about four layers and surface is opaque. Keep smoothing the surface with a patting motion. When dry, puncture balloon and remove. Cut top opening larger to accommodate treats and candies then finish with a woolen pom-pom stopper. Decorate with baubles, colored felt, foil, braid, rick-rack or what-have-you. If you like, you can insert a low-wattage lamp and create some unusual lighting effects.

Remember the Pomander?

Hang in hallways and odd corners, the aromatic pomanders of yesterday created a special seasonal fragrance which many old-timers still recall. Easy to create, you can make them yourself with this famous old recipe:

Take fresh, thin-skinned, nicely shaped oranges and pierce holes in the peel in zig-zag patterns. (If the holes are made in tissue paper, hang up in net bags or old stockings to dry. Come Christmas, suspend the pomanders on gay ribbons around the home.

The Yule Cake Custom

An almost-forgotten Christmas custom is the pioneer practice of having a candle on the cake for every member of the family. Each person lit his or her own candle — a charming ceremony much enjoyed by the youngsters.

Our Own Christmas Trees

Until very recently, nearly half of the Big Country's Christmas trees were imported from British Columbia. Thanks to the efforts of the Northern Alberta Development Council, however, a move is afoot to boost our own Christmas tree business, making full use of the great stands of timber in the Central Peace River District. Christmas tree growing, says the Council's economic report, could provide a valuable supplement to the income of vegetable farmers in the area, supplying the fastest-growing market in Canada.

Put a punch into lunch!

Ever tasted cranberry punch? Try this old-time concoction for seasonal refreshment:

- 2 cups cranberries
- 3 cups water
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- 1½ cups ginger ale

Cook cranberries in boiling water for about 10 minutes or until skins pop. Strain. Boil the juice with sugar, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add lemon juice and chill. Just before serving, add ginger ale. Serves 8-10.

Familiar Face

St. Nicholas Peak, southwest of Bow Lake, was so named in 1908 from a striking rock formation on the side of the peak that resembles Santa Claus.

Our Own Reindeer

Alberta's Rocky Mountain Caribou (Rangifer Arctus Fortitudo) is one of several kinds of North American reindeer. It ranges from the far northern Snake Indian River region to the mountain slopes of Jasper National Park. Larger than a deer but not as large as an elk, the caribou stands about 4 feet at the shoulder and weighs between 250 and 350 lbs. The herds of twenty or thirty animals spend the winter in the forested highlands, and can sometimes be seen in the Tongue Valley, Upper Blue Creek and Maligne Lake regions. Incidentally, the caribou's deeply felt hooves provide equally efficient purchase on swamp, snow or rooftops.

MINIATURE MEAT LOAVES BOAST MASHED POTATO CROWNS

These perky little "snow"-capped meat loaves will bring blisful smiles of pure delight from your youngsters. Dad will grin at the ample serving of hefty, juicy ground beef.

And you'll find these individual meat loaves no trouble at all to prepare. Make a savory meat loaf mixture using part of a can of condensed tomato soup to bind the mixture and cook luscious, sun-ripened tomato goodness all through the meat. Then, just a few minutes before serving, spoon fluffy mashed potato on the loaves and brown lightly.

Make the potato topping party-special by folding bright shredded carrot into it before spooning on the loaves. Another time, use chopped peanuts instead of carrot for a crunch version.

Serve the cute, plump little loaves with a tangy tomato sauce made from the remainder of the can of soup heated with the meat drippings, a bit of water, and some prepared mustard.

There's never any need to have ordinary ground beef dishes if you've a can of condensed soup near by. In addition to tomato, you'll find Cheddar cheese, golden mushroom, and the cream soups especially good for ground beef cookery.

Round out an inviting (and economical) winter dinner table with green beans, Waldorf salad, chocolate cake, milk, and coffee.

SNOW CAP MEAT LOAVES

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 can (10 ounces) condensed Tomato soup
- 1 cup small bread cubes
- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- ¼ teaspoon salt

In bowl, thoroughly mix beef, ½ cup soup, bread, onion, salt and pepper; shape into 4 small loaves. Place in shallow baking dish (12x8x2"). Bake at 350°F. for 30 minutes. Meanwhile, combine potatoes and carrot. Pour fat from meat. Stir in remaining soup, water and mustard. Top loaves with potatoes. Bake until potatoes are lightly browned, 20 minutes. Serve with meat. Makes 4 servings.

Generous dash pepper

- 1 cup mashed potatoes
- ¼ cup shredded carrot
- ¼ cup water

Have you ever wondered...

... where Alberta students can learn the "art" of hospitality?

During the summers, hundreds of Alberta students obtain employment in city stores, resort hotels, gas stations, golf courses, areas where they are bound to meet and serve the province's visitors. To prepare these young people for their responsibilities as representatives of the province to the tourist, a training-in-tourism course is sponsored each year by the Alberta Department of Youth. The Alberta School of Tourism provides a short course to help students improve their employability, increase their knowledge of the tourist industry and Alberta, and to aid them in promoting Alberta as a tourist area. Courses are offered in hospitality, professional ethics, tourism in Canada and public relations. Many a tourist from another province or another country has returned home highly impressed by the young Albertans who wear the pin which identifies graduates of the School of Tourism.

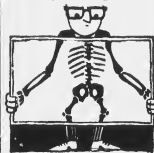

... how the Alberta farmer keeps up-to-date on modern agricultural techniques?

There are many links in the communication chain extending from the agricultural research laboratory, where new ideas are developed, to the working farmer, who puts them to practical use. One of the most important is the District Agriculturist. A respected member of the community he serves, the D.A. is a professional consultant whose years of training and experience are backed by the facilities of the University, the Canada Department of Agriculture and the Extension Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture. He is an adviser not only on the techniques of more efficient farm production but also on the management of the farm as a family business. The D.A.'s office is a distribution center for information on newly-developed farming methods which are passed along to the farmer by means of personal contact, demonstration, short courses and clinics. Alberta farmers know that, if they need professional advice or assistance, it is no farther away than the office of the nearest D.A.

... what are the most important weapons in Alberta's war against tuberculosis?

The incidence of TB in our province is being controlled through early detection, adequate treatment and continuing contact, the three main functions of the Tuberculosis Division of the Alberta Department of Health. For discovery of the disease, obtained through reports from family doctors, testing in schools and hospitals, and from two mobile X-ray units. Purchased by the Alberta TB Association and operated by the TB Division, these units provide a screening program throughout the province. If the X-rays show signs of TB or related diseases, further tests are made. Adequate treatment is given without charge to those suffering from the disease at the two provincial sanatoria. Patients are kept only as long as isolation is required, an average of five and a half months, then are returned home and continue their treatment as outpatients at the sanatoria or one of the 16 clinics at various locations in Alberta. A Central TB Registry fulfills the final function by keeping the Tuberculosis Division in contact with former patients to ensure they are continuing treatment if required.

... how the girls of Alberta are being taught to appreciate the great outdoors?

Any Alberta girl between the ages of 10 and 16 is eligible to learn forest conservation and wilderness survival as a member of the Girl Forest Guards. Similar in aims to the Junior Forest Warden Association, the Guards have now been transferred from the Department of Lands and Forests, to the Department of Youth. Presently there are five such clubs in the province with a total of 65 members. Under the leadership of local volunteers, the girls study the theory of conservation and resource management throughout the winter, undertake local beautification projects in the spring with tree, shrub and flower planting; and swing into even more practical instruction at a five-day camp during the summer. Attendance at the camp is an award for high achievement in the club. All expenses, with the exception of a $5 registration fee, are paid for by the Department of Youth, and resource people from the government act as lecturers and instructors. Forest biology, bush survival, use of map and compass, and fire fighting are a few of the subjects taught.

... what steps are being taken to assure a proper education for Alberta's blind children?

Although Alberta itself has no school for the blind, the province's blind children are assured of a complete education by the Special Educational Services of the Alberta Department of Education. Arrangements are made for those children applying to attend the Jericho Hill School for the Blind and Deaf, in Vancouver, or the Ontario School for the Blind in Brantford. Room, board, and tuition are all paid, and the children receive escorted transportation to school and home at the beginning and end of the term, and for the Christmas holidays. Where academic ability and personality make it possible, blind students are being removed from the special classes and enrolled in their own local schools, making it possible for them to live at home. Special teaching materials such as tape recordings and textbooks transcribed into Braille are provided by the Branch, which also assists teachers to assess the capabilities of their sightless students. In addition to aiding the blind gain an education, the Special Educational Services Branch also supervises and finances classes for the hard of hearing, those who have suffered partial loss of sight, and for all handicapped children in the province.

... what is the most important step in the development of Alberta's natural resources?

The most important is that long, long step that joins the actual location of the resources with the areas in which they can be put to the best use. A natural resource is not an asset until it is developed and transportation is a vital aspect of this development. Formerly inaccessible areas of Alberta, rich in such resources as coking coal, gypsum, pulpwood, petroleum, natural gas and sulphur, are now being opened up by the construction of the Alberta Resources Railway. Being built by the Canadian National Railway and financed by the Alberta Resources Railway Corporation, a crown corporation of the province, the A.R.R. joins Solomon on the south with Grande Prairie on the north. The southern link with the C.N.R. mainline provides access not only to inland markets of Canada and the United States, but also to overseas markets through the west coast ports of Prince Rupert and Vancouver. The northern terminus at Grande Prairie will bring the rich agricultural area of the Peace River District 400 miles closer to west coast ports. Once complete, the A.R.R. will be leased and operated by the C.N.R. who may purchase the line at their option.

Coronary Artery Disease

Coronary artery disease is hardening of the arteries which supply the muscles of the heart and hence among the most important arteries in the body. Many suggestions have been made to prevent it, but none is foolproof, says The Canadian Medical Association.

We have known for a long time that coronary artery disease is more common in people who are very much overweight — obese. As a result there has been great interest in the matter of diet: whether the eating of certain foods might cause and aggravate coronary disease, and whether, as it appears, a high fat diet, makes a person more likely to become a victim.

Nursing Homes Will Receive $8 Per Patient

Nursing homes in Alberta will receive eight dollars per patient per day in 1968 under new regulations proposed by the Alberta Government Department of Health and approved by the cabinet. This represents an increase of 50 cents per day over the 1967 rate.

There are 56 nursing homes operating in Alberta with a capacity of more than 4200 patients. The nursing homes report an average

During the past 10 years there has been more medical interest about factors which have nothing to do with diet. Extensive studies on the smoking of cigarettes seem to indicate that "the habit" is a very important factor. The person who has had coronary disease can reduce the risk of further trouble by stopping smoking.

The C.M.A. reports that studies are being made of the relationship between exercise, or lack of it, and coronary artery disease. It is believed that people who take regular exercise, or through their jobs keep physically fit, are less likely to have coronary artery disease. It is also felt that a person who has had a coronary attack might be less likely to have further trouble if he participates in a carefully planned program of exercise.

age occupancy rate of about 95 per cent.

During the past year the nursing homes throughout the province have been faced with rapidly rising costs of operation.

At the start of 1967 the Alberta Government raised its contributions to nursing homes by 50c per patient per day to a total of five dollars. In the new year, following an upward revision in personal pensions, patients are being asked to pay a total of $3.00 per day, an increase of 50 cents per day.

Bread Crumbs For The Perfect Turkey Stuffing

Some cooks like to make turkey stuffing with bread cubes, others prefer crumbs. Actually, the secret of making a moist but fluffy poultry dressing is in the bread. Too often very dry bread is used and then liquid has to be added and a little too much can result in a soggy mass that isn't very appetizing.

The ideal crumbs for dressing, according to the Poultry Products Institute, come from bread old enough to yield crumbs that are fine but still fluffy, not "cracker-crumbs" dry. Homemade bread two or three days old, will usually do this or baker's bread that is four or five days old. The bread should crumb easily without "pulling" in to doughy little balls.

The quick way of making this type of crumb, says the Poultry Products Institute, is to remove crusts from the bread and place about one-third of the loaf in a large clean tea towel. Gather up the towel in one hand to form a bag around the bread and with the other hand rub the bread between the fingers as if removing spots from the towel. A whole loaf of bread can be crumbled easily and quickly this way. Of course, bread may be grated on a fine grater or crumbled in an electric blender if preferred.

A 24-ounce loaf of bread will yield about 8 cups of fine fluffy crumbs. To estimate the amount of dressing for a bird, allow three-quarters to 1 cup per pound of turkey. If there is more dressing than the bird will hold, heat it in a covered casserole for 30 to 40 minutes.

Many cooks prefer to bake the dressing in a casserole rather than in the turkey since it shortens the cooking of the turkey 5 minutes per pound if roasted unstuffed.

Following is the "husband-approved" recipe for the delicious Old-Fashioned Stuffing recommended by the Poultry Products Institute:

Old-Fashioned Poultry Stuffing
8 cups fine soft bread crumbs
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped celery leaves

1/2 cup melted butter, (or more if desired)

half teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

2 teaspoons poultry seasoning OR sage and/or savory

Combine ingredients thoroughly. Taste and adjust seasonings adding more salt, poultry seasoning, etc., if desired. Stuff lightly into body and neck cavities of turkey. Increase or reduce recipe as required. Yields enough to stuff a turkey approximately 8 to 10 lbs.

Is There a Santa Claus?

Seventy years ago, eight-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon wrote an appeal to Frank P. Church of the old New York Sun: "Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

The same question is still important today. It's important especially to thousands of children in hospitals across the country.

Some lie in a bed attached to a thin plastic tube leading to a plastic bag. It may be a bag of whole blood. It might be one of the many produced derivatives from blood.

They need it because they are "bleeders", or victims of leukemia, or recuperating from open heart surgery.

It's there because someone like you took the time to give part of himself.

That's why Church's editorial was able to reply: "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus."

"I can't find your name on our list of supporters..."
